

BE USED TO (noun)
An English-Zone.Com Worksheet

NAME: _____
DATE: _____

I You He She It We You They	am are is is are are are	(not) used to (noun)	A. I am used to California weather. (be) used to + (noun phrase) Meaning: California weather feels normal to me. B. Sara isn't used to the snow and ice in Alaska. (be)(not) used to + (noun phrase) Meaning: The snow and ice in Alaska does not feel normal to her. NOTE: BE USED TO and BE ACCUSTOMED TO have the same meaning, and follow the same grammar structure. Compare these examples: I am used to California weather. = I am accustomed to California weather.
--	--	----------------------	---

PART A. Study the examples, then write sentences using BE USED TO (noun)

EX1. Circus elephants are used to peanuts for lunch every day.
EX2. Elephants aren't used to hamburgers for lunch every day.

1. Most Japanese people _____ miso soup for breakfast every day.
2. American people _____ steak for lunch and dinner every day. It's too expensive!

3. Eskimos _____ hot weather.
4. Santa Clause _____ cold weather. He likes the snow.
5. Hawaiian people _____ warm, tropical weather.
6. A hula dancer _____ cold weather. Her clothes aren't warm enough.

7. Moving men _____ hard work all day.
8. My boss _____ physical labor.

9. Max _____ college mathematics, so he doesn't understand.
10. College professors _____ difficult mathematics, so physics is easy for them.

11. A soldier _____ harsh physical conditions.
12. Soldiers _____ harsh commands from their commanders.

PART B. Rewrite the sentences using BE ACCUSTOMED TO (noun)

I You He She It We You They	am are is is are are are	(not) used to (noun)	A. I am used to California weather. (be) used to + (noun phrase) Meaning: California weather feels normal to me. B. Sara isn't used to the snow and ice in Alaska. (be)(not) used to + (noun phrase) Meaning: The snow and ice in Alaska does not feel normal to her.
⚡ NOTE: BE USED TO and BE ACCUSTOMED TO have the same meaning, and follow the same grammar structure. Compare these examples: I am used to California weather. = I am accustomed to California weather.

PART A. Study the examples, then write sentences using BE USED TO (noun)

EX1. Circus elephants are used to peanuts for lunch every day.

EX2. Elephants aren't used to hamburgers for lunch every day.

- Most Japanese people are used to miso soup for breakfast every day.
- American people aren't used to steak for lunch and dinner every day. It's too expensive!
- Eskimos aren't used to hot weather.
- Santa Clause is used to cold weather. He likes the snow.
- Hawaiian people aren't used to warm, tropical weather.
- A hula dancer isn't used to cold weather. Her clothes aren't warm enough.
- Moving men are used to hard work all day.
- My boss isn't used to physical labor.
- Max isn't used to college mathematics, so he doesn't understand his homework.
- College professors are used to difficult mathematics, so physics is easy for them.
- A soldier is used to harsh physical conditions.
- Soldiers are used to harsh commands from their commanders.

PART B. Rewrite the sentences using BE ACCUSTOMED TO (noun)

- Most Japanese people are accustomed to miso soup for breakfast every day.
- American people aren't accustomed to steak for lunch and dinner every day. It's too expensive!
- Eskimos aren't accustomed to hot weather.
- Santa Clause is accustomed to cold weather. He likes the snow.
- Hawaiian people aren't accustomed to warm, tropical weather.
- A hula dancer isn't accustomed to cold weather. Her clothes aren't warm enough.
- Moving men are accustomed to hard work all day.
- My boss isn't accustomed to physical labor.
- Max isn't accustomed to college mathematics, so he doesn't understand his homework.
- College professors are accustomed to difficult mathematics, so physics is easy for them.
- A soldier is accustomed to harsh physical conditions.
- Soldiers are accustomed to harsh commands from their commanders.